SCAL Academy Seminar

Resolving Construction Disputes between Main Contractor and Sub Contractor

Organised bySCAL ACADEMY

19 June 2018 (Tuesday), 9.30am to 12.30pm

Introduction

The objective of the seminar is to introduce participants to resolve construction disputes between main contractor and subcontractor and on how it operates in the practical context. The theme will be on how main contractor and sub-contractor can resolve construction disputes.

Course Objective

By the end of the seminar, participants would have learned how to resolve construction disputes amicably. They would have also learned how to meet the timelines and what needs to be done when making an application to bring claims within the strict regime of the Act. There will be practical discussions and exercise to illustrate how construction disputes can be resolved by litigation, arbitration and or the SOP Act.

Course Outlines

- Definition of construction and its forms
- Main contractor and sub-contractor resolving standard construction disputes
- Settling construction disputes amicably and the key points to note
- Outcome if construction disputes are not resolved amicably and the other methods
- How to prepare for claims under the Security of Payment Act
- Preparing for litigation process and its consequences
- Arbitration and mediation as a process of settlement

Who Should Attend

This seminar will be of immediate benefit to all involved in the building and construction industry, particularly Developers, Contractors, Sub-Contractors, Suppliers, Quantity Surveyors, Project Manager, Project Engineers, Project Administrators, Architects, Consultants and Lawyers.
